Tax Cut Plan Approved by House; 40 Democrats Agree With GOP

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Republicans rammed their "30-20" income tax slash through the House on schedule today, 273 to 137, and sent it to a less enthusiastic Senate.

The final roll call found 233 Republicans joined by 40 Democrats for the bill. Against it were 133 Democrats and Reps. Engel (R-Mich.), Butler (R-Neb.), H. Carl Anderson (R-Minn.) and Marcantonio (D-N.Y.).

The bill would trim 30 percent off the taxes of persons with taxable income up to $10,000; and give 20 percent reductions to most other taxpayers, retroactive to Jan. 1.

Several "ifs" make the future of the bill uncertain. One is the position of GOP Senate leaders that the tax cut should be effective July 1, instead of for the full year of 1947. Another is the opposition of President Truman to any tax cuts now; he may veto the bill. Today's vote was one short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto.

The Senate probably will not act until late in April or later. Before the final House vote, the committee had passed the bill, but a Democratic motion that would have shelved the bill. The motion, by Rep. Dougherty (D-NC), proposed:

"To recommit the bill, H.R. 1 to the committee on ways and means for further study with instructions to the committee to pass the bill, to consider individual income tax reduction as a part of our over-all post-war tax program and providing for more equitable relief in the lower income brackets."

The bill passed by the House stipulates that withholdings from wages and salaries drop to lower levels on June 1, with all taxpayers getting refunds on overpayments under the old rates from Jan. 1 to June 1.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said this retroactive treatment would cost the Treasury $5,700,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning July 1 — almost as much as House Republicans expect President Truman's $37,500,000,000.

The House vote came after two days of bitter debate. Near the end, Rep. Engel of Michigan, (Continued on Page Nine)

Plowden Picked To Lead British Economic Fight

LONDON, March 27 (P) — The Labor government picked a youthful, steelmaker today to brain-trust the economic battle of Britain and armed him with wide powers to plan the nation's recovery from six years of impoverishing war.

The $26,000-a-year job of mustering the national resources of men, machines and materials went to 40-year-old Sir Edwin Plowden who distinguished himself during the war as chief executive of the aircraft production ministry which kept the RAF in the air.

The appointment of Plowden to carry out the government's economic plan for 1947 and go forward with a four-year plan still in the making was announced today.

27 More Bodies Removed From Illinois Mine Debris

CENTRALIA, Ill., March 27 (P) —Discovery of another group of 27 bodies late today brought the total of known dead in Tuesday's coal mine explosion to 62 and closer to the eventual toll of 111 victims predicted by rescue workers.

Fred Hellmeyer, chief electrician for the Centralia Coal company, mine No. 5 where the workers were trapped more than two days ago, said he believed the bodies of most of the 49 miners still unaccounted for would be found in three separate groups, one group further down the west entry in which the 27 latest victims were found.

Molotov Backtracks On Nazi Assets Issue

MOSCOW, March 27 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov gave ground tonight under pressure from the three Western nations and agreed to discuss a definition of German assets in Austria, the key issue in the writing of the Austrian peace treaty.

He submitted to the foreign ministers council a compromise proposal which American authorities said unofficially was too vague to permit acceptance. Whether Molotov's retreat foreshadowed agreement on the Austrian pact remained in doubt.

For two hours Molotov clung steadfastly to his argument that any German assets in the Eastern zone of Austria belonged to Russia without question, and that no definition of what constituted German assets was necessary. The problem, he said, was covered adequately by the Potsdam agreement which Russia interpreted as allowing her to take whatever she pleased.

Two Persons Hurt In Three-Car Crash

Two persons were slightly injured and two cars were damaged last night at 11:30 o'clock in a three-car crash on High street near Hanover.

The crash, a series crash in which one car hit another which bumped a third auto, injured Capt. Thomas Richards, of Valley Forge General hospital, and Kathleen Jeffrey, Boston, Mass., a nurse at the hospital, who were in the rear-most car which caused the bumping.

They were taken to the Pottstown hospital by Patrolman Thomas A. Lawler, who investigated, and were treated and discharged. Miss Jeffrey suffered a cut on the inside of her mouth and Capt. Richards was treated for contusions of the head and left knee.

John C. Lachman, of 141 Beech street, owner of the car nearest the traffic light was driving eastward, and stated he had stopped at the light when he was hit from behind.

The car which struck him is owned by George C. Long, of 547 Chestnut street, who said he was stopped at the light and was bumped from the rear. His son, Stanley, of the same address, was driving at the time.

Finally the auto which hit Long's car was that owned and driven by Miss Jeffrey. She told police that she was concentrating on making a right hand turn at the corner and accidentally hit Long's car.

Lachman's car was the only one not damaged.

MORE RESEARCH NEEDED IN ATOM KING BELIEVES

Sees No Immediate Use of Atomic Energy For Heat Production

No prospect for the immediate use of atomic energy for power or heat production was seen by Thomas King, chief engineer of the Consolidated Gas company of Baltimore, speaking before a meeting of the Rotary club last night in the Elks' home.

"Some of the men in the best position to know think this may be accomplished in the future," the speaker emphasized, "but many discoveries must be made and much research must be carried out before even this is anything more than a more or less remote possibility."

Although the peacetime usefulness of atomic power is remote, its military usefulness has already been seen. The Baltimore engineer pointed out, however, that the idea of a few scientists in a cave producing enough atomic bombs to destroy the world, is fantastic.

Listing scientists of all countries, such as Roentgen, Einstein, Millikan, Curie and Bohr, who have already participated in the development of the atomic bomb, King warned that within a few years, many other nations will have worked out the methods of production.

One of the greatest drawbacks to the efficient use of atomic energy, in peace or in war, is the expense of creating great industrial plants and of pouring into the projects almost unlimited sums of money.

"A high authority has stated that the amount of energy that went into the production of the atomic bombs used in Japan was about 100 times the energy released by their explosion," he remarked, showing the costs and waste still involved in producing atomic power.

Only nine of the 92 known elements can now be used for deriving atomic power, he pointed out, and seven of these are so rare that the entire amount of the seven in existence could be held in one hand. King devoted part of his speech to a simplified discussion of the structure of an atom, the meaning of a "chain reaction," and a brief description of the vast scientific program in the United States devoted exclusively to producing the atom.

Czechs Release Brother Of Nazi Hermann Goering

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, March 27 (P) — Albert Goering, younger brother of the late Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, was released from Pankrac prison several days ago. The Czechs decided there was no basis for trying him for war crimes.

Goering, appointed by the Germans as general manager of the Skoda munitions works, was taken into custody by Americans near Nuernberg, Germany, the past Spring and was turned over to Czech authorities.

Swift Action Is Promised In Borough Water Request

A pledge that the Public Utilities commission will act promptly in the case of the application by the Borough of Pottstown, which seeks a certificate of public convenience making possible the purchase by the borough of the holdings of the Pottstown Gas and Water company, was made yesterday.

Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells, John K. Kilik, president of the company, and Victor Roberts, counsel for the company, presented the application at 10:30 o'clock yesterday in the offices of the commission in the Capitol building, Harrisburg.

Assistant Secretary Walters of the commission was given the legal documents with Associate Counsel

Grant Miller of the commission's legal department and two representatives of the accounting department in attendance.

Charles Kessler, of the engineering firm of Gannett, Seelye, Cordory and Carpenter also attended. This firm has charge of preparing the engineering data for the borough. Walters stated the commission realizes prompt action should be taken in fairness to the borough and also to the stockholders of the company.

It was announced the commission will fix a time for a hearing in the near future. At this time the borough will be called upon to present testimony to support claims made in the application filed yesterday.

Doctor Is Uninjured In Two Car Crash; Auto Is Damaged

Dr. Claude B. Lerch, 524 High street, narrowly escaped injury at 10 o'clock yesterday morning when his machine was struck at Charlotte and Oak streets intersection by a car operated by Ralph Bean, Pottstown RD 2.

The physician's car was struck on the right side and it was badly damaged. Lerch escaped with a shaking up.

Incidentally this is the fourth time within a year a machine of Dr. Lerch figured in a crash. It was, however, the first in that time an accident occurred when the physician was at the wheel. He suffered severe injuries in a crash in West Philadelphia several months ago.

His chauffeur was at the wheel at that time.

Dr. Lerch said he was driving his machine eastward on Oak street and when the traffic light turned green he started to cross the intersection on his way to the Pottstown hospital. Lerch said the Bean machine was traveling northward on Charlotte. Lerch claims the Bean machine continued on its way despite the changing of the traffic light and crashed into the right side of his machine with great force.

The noise of the crash attracted many persons from homes and stores in that section of the borough.

CAA TO SURVEY STOWE FIELD, BOROUGH TOLD

Pottstown Definitely On List for Airport, Air Officials Report

Assurance was given to Pottstown officials yesterday that the borough definitely is on the municipal airport list following a meeting with Federal and State aeronautical authorities in Harrisburg.

A survey is scheduled next week of the Stowe-Pottstown airport of John J. Bacco, Glasgow street, according to the borough delegates. It also was announced that State and Federal officials consider appraisal figures on the Stowe airport and on the Pottstown airport site of Wesley Nye at Limerick "reasonable."

Representatives of the borough and the Chamber of Commerce said a special joint meeting of their airport committee would be held after the Civil Aeronautics authority survey at Stowe is completed.

The survey of the Stowe site will be made for the purpose of evaluating the airport from an aeronautical engineering angle and not from a monetary point of view.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears stated "The trip was of value for we secured a lot of additional information. We were advised that Pottstown really needs an airport and that in years to come its value will be appreciated more and more."

Those on the trip were as follows: Borough Manager Sears, President of Council C. Roy Bush, Chairman, J. Max Creswell, of the committee, Paul Christ and Secretary Ralph H. Spore, of the Chamber of Commerce.

Foot Amputated, Galloway Rests In Hospital Here

Samuel Galloway, Pottstown RD 3, who was found alone on March 8 with both feet badly frozen, was resting comfortably in the Pottstown hospital yesterday following the amputation of his right foot.

The 72-year-old man was found alone by his brother, Isaac R. Galloway, 316 Beech street, after he had failed to appear at the Farmington avenue grocery store in which he usually bought his food. After he did not appear for a few days, Isaac Galloway investigated and found him lying in bed suffering from the intense pain of his frozen feet.

He was rushed to the Pottstown hospital where it was found that both feet were completely frozen and that a gangrenous condition already had set in.

Compresses, heating pads, and physio-therapy treatments were administered in an attempt to defrost his feet and restore the blood circulation in the injured members. The gangrenous condition had progressed beyond the control of his physicians, however, and it was necessary to amputate his right foot.

The operation was performed Monday by Dr. A. A. Gallo, 62 North Hanover street, assisted by resident physicians of the hospital staff.

Galloway's feet were frozen when he had to walk through deep drifts of snow following the last storm to reach his home in a hollow near Freese's Heights.

A committee was appointed to revise the by-laws of the organization.

PRAQUE, Czechoslovakia, March 27 (AP) — Albert Goering, younger brother of the late Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, was released from Pankratz prison several days ago. The Czechs decided there was no basis for trying him for war crimes.

Goering, appointed by the Germans as general manager of the Skoda munitions works, was taken into custody by Americans near Nuernberg, Germany, the past Spring and was turned over to Czech authorities.

MORE RESEARCH NEEDED IN ATOM KING BELIEVES

Sees No Immediate Use of Atomic Energy For Heat Production

No prospect for the immediate use of atomic energy for power or heat production was seen by Thomas King, chief engineer of the Consolidated Gas company of Baltimore, speaking before a meeting of the Rotary club last night in the Elks' home.

"Some of the men in the best position to know think this may be accomplished in the future," the speaker emphasized, "but many discoveries must be made and much research must be carried out before even this is anything more than a more or less remote possibility."

Although the peacetime usefulness of atomic power is remote, its military usefulness has already been seen. The Baltimore engineer pointed out, however, that the idea of a few scientists in a cave producing enough atomic bombs to destroy the world, is fantastic.

Listing scientists of all countries, such as Roentgen, Einstein, Millikan, Curie and Bohr, who have already participated in the development of the atomic bomb, King warned that within a few years, many other nations will have worked out the methods of production.

One of the greatest drawbacks to the efficient use of atomic energy, in peace or in war, is the expense of creating great industrial plants and of pouring into the projects almost unlimited sums of money.

"A high authority has stated that the amount of energy that went into the production of the atomic bombs used in Japan was about 100 times the energy released by their explosion," he remarked, showing the costs and waste still involved in producing atomic power.

Only nine of the 92 known elements can now be used for deriving atomic power, he pointed out, and seven of these are so rare that the entire amount of the seven in existence could be held in one hand.

King devoted part of his speech to a simplified discussion of the structure of an atom, the meaning of a "chain reaction," and a brief description of the vast scientific program in the United States devoted exclusively to producing the (Continued on Page Twenty-two)

Swift Action Is Promised In Borough Water Request

A pledge that the Public Utilities commission will act promptly in the case of the application by the Borough of Pottstown, which seeks a certificate of public convenience making possible the purchase by the borough of the holdings of the Pottstown Gas and Water company, was made yesterday.

Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells; John K. Klink, president of the company, and Victor Roberts, counsel for the company, presented the application at 10:30 o'clock yesterday in the offices of the commission in the Capitol building, Harrisburg.

Assistant Secretary Walters of the commission was given the legal documents with Associate Counsel

Grant Miller of the commission's legal department and two representatives of the accounting department in attendance.

Charles Kressler of the engineering firm of Gannett, Seelye, Cordory and Carpenter, also attended. This firm has charge of preparing the engineering data for the borough.

Walters stated the commission realizes prompt action should be taken in fairness to the borough and also to the stockholders of the company.

It was announced the commission will fix a time for a hearing in the near future. At this time the borough will be called upon to present testimony to support claims made in the application filed yesterday.

TWO HILL GRADS VISIT SCHOOL IN HELICOPTER

Ho! Hum! The way people act, you would think it was unusual for an old alumnus of The Hill school to drop in on his former masters. Or to decide to go down to Howard Johnson's for lunch for that matter.

"Heck, we had to eat someplace," David G. Forman, Buffalo, N. Y., said yesterday, "and this place looked good, so we came in."

Of course, Pottstonians normally would think nothing of it, but Forman, and his friend, Joseph Mashman, of Niagara Falls, "drop in, go down," and "come in" literally. And they do it without breaking any bones!

Now, if you were manager of the helicopter division of the Bell aircraft company like Forman, or assistant chief helicopter pilot like (Continued on Page Twenty-three)

COUNTY GROUP ELECTS SEARS

Pottstown Official Is Named Secretary Of Borough's Body

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears was elected secretary of the Montgomery County Boroughs association last night at its annual meeting in Norristown City hall when election of officers was held.

Clarence Richards, of Red Hill, was named treasurer replacing Vernon E. Wynne, of Conshohocken.

A delegation of 15, headed by Burgess William A. Griffith, represented Pottstown which was one of 21 boroughs to send delegates.

Other officers chosen by the body were Leland W. Hovey, Norristown, re-elected president; Harry Walker, Ambler, re-elected first vice-president, and Lyle C. Miller, Rockledge, re-elected second vice-president.

Doctor Is Uninjured In Two Car Crash; Auto Is Damaged

Dr. Claude B. Lerch, 524 High street, narrowly escaped injury at 10 o'clock yesterday morning when his machine was struck at Charlotte and Oak streets intersection by a car operated by Ralph Bean, Pottstown RD 2.

The physician's car was struck on the right side and it was badly damaged. Lerch escaped with a shaking up.

Incidentally this is the fourth time within a year a machine of Dr. Lerch figured in a crash. It was, however, the first in that time an accident occurred when the physician was at the wheel. He suffered severe injuries in a crash in West Philadelphia several months ago.

His chauffeur was at the wheel at that time.

Dr. Lerch said he was driving his machine eastward on Oak street and when the traffic light turned green he started to cross the intersection on his way to the Pottstown hospital. Lerch said the Bean machine was traveling northward on Charlotte. Lerch claims the Bean machine continued on its way despite the changing of the traffic light and crashed into the right side of his machine with great force.

The noise of the crash attracted many persons from homes and stores in that section of the borough.

CAA TO SURVEY STOWE FIELD, BOROUGH TOLD

Pottstown Definitely On List for Airport, Air Officials Report

Assurance was given to Pottstown officials yesterday that the borough definitely is on the municipal airport list following a meeting with Federal and State aeronautical authorities in Harrisburg.

A survey is scheduled next week of the Stowe-Pottstown airport of John J. Basco, Glasgow street, according to the borough delegates. It also was announced that State and Federal officials consider appraisal figures on the Stowe airport and on the Pottstown airport site of Wesley Nyce at Limerick "reasonable."

Representatives of the borough and the Chamber of Commerce said a special joint meeting of their airport committee would be held after the Civil Aeronautics authority survey at Stowe is completed.

The survey of the Stowe site will be made for the purpose of evaluating the airport from an aeronautical engineering angle and not from a monetary point of view. Borough Manager Dow I. Sears stated "The trip was of value for we secured a lot of additional information. We were advised that Pottstown really needs an airport and that in years to come its value will be appreciated more and more."

Those on the trip were as follows: Borough Manager Sears, President of Council C. Roy Bush, Chairman J. Max Creswell, of the committee, Paul Chryst and Secretary Ralph H. Spare, of the Chamber of Commerce.

Foot Amputated, Galloway Rests In Hospital Here

Samuel Galloway, Pottstown RD 3, who was found alone on March 9 with both feet badly frozen, was resting comfortably in the Pottstown hospital yesterday following the amputation of his right foot.

The 72-year-old man was found alone by his brother, Isaac R. Galloway, 316 Beech street, after he had failed to appear at the Farmington avenue grocery store in which he usually bought his food. After he did not appear for a few days, Isaac Galloway investigated and found him lying in bed suffering from the intense pain of his frozen feet.

He was rushed to the Pottstown hospital where it was found that both feet were completely frozen and that a gangrenous condition already had set in.

Compresses, heating pads, and physiotherapy in an attempt to defrost his feet and restore the blood circulation in the injured members. The gangrenous condition had progressed beyond the control of his physicians, however, and it was necessary to amputate his right foot.

The operation was performed Monday by Dr. A. A. Gallo, 62 North Hanover street, assisted by resident physicians of the hospital staff.

Galloway's feet were frozen when he had to walk through deep drifts of snow following the last storm to reach his home in a hollow near Freese's Heights.

Funds Voted to PAC By Workers Council

To inform Pottstown workers of anti-labor legislation now before State and National legislative bodies, the United Workers council last night voted $629 to the Education committee of the Political Action committee.

The check for that amount was sent last night, Robert E. Garber, president, said.

A committee was appointed to revise the by-laws of the organization.

FRIDAY, MARCH 28, 1947

Toil and pleasure, in their natural opposites, are yet linked together in a kind of necessary connection.—Livy.

A Welcome Action: POTTSTOWN'S American Legion set a fine example when it assumed all costs for staging the annual Memorial Day observance. Time was when the American Legion was struggling to keep its head above the rising tide of debts. Today George A. Amole post is financially independent. It can afford to pay the Memorial Day bill.

The American Legion probably recognizes its debt to the community. It is tax free. It obtains many services, including police protection, fire protection, sewer conveniences, etc., without cost.

So now it shows its appreciation for these benefits by turning back to the borough of Pottstown an appropriation of $500. A noble gesture.

The action might be considered by other tax free organizations in Pottstown. They too, get all the services the American Legion and other householders receive. Their streets are paved, their corners are lighted, and at no cost.

What would prevent them from making an annual contribution to the borough, which surely needs money?

Other communities in Montgomery county receive gifts from like institutions, especially in the lower end of the shire. There contributions are made both to the local government, and to the school board.

Those governing bodies are appreciative of the gifts. Pottstown likely would be grateful.

Leading the Fight: FATHER BALLY COUNCIL, Knights of Columbus, is leading the fight in Pottstown against communism. The Pottstown organization, guided by Grand Knight Stephen J. Vargasky, has branded itself an arch foe of the Russian theory of government, has declared war on the "ism" that outlaws religion.

The Knights of Columbus are to be encouraged in their fight, in their courage for opposing subversive movements. That they come out openly to combat the dreaded Soviet theories is reason enough for commendation.

The Pottstown group may best oppose communism by contrasting life under American democracy and the situation of labor, religion and personal liberty in the Soviet.

Here Today, Renamed Tomorrow: THE World Book Encyclopedia says it will have to go to a lot of trouble if the name of Boulder Dam is changed back to Hoover. That should be a lesson to the World Book Encyclopedia in the transience of human affairs.

The editors report that they will have to move the whole dam article from Volume B to Volume H, and check articles on Arizona, Nevada and California to be sure the new name is used.

Perhaps the World Book Encyclopedia has been too trusting. We refer it to that cagey old cynic, Webster's New International Dictionary. The editors of that work are making no bets that just because a thing is called by a certain name today, it is going to be called by that same name tomorrow.

An exception is the Mediterranean Sea, in which the G. & C. Merriam company seems to have considerable confidence.

Take the term "the Balkans." Webster's does not intend to be left out on a limb by anything like European politics. They can change the names of Serbia and Montenegro to Yugoslavia today, and tomorrow they could be calling it the Carpatho-Ukraine, and nobody could pin a thing on Webster's New International Dictionary.

"BALKAN," says the latest edition carefully, "Of or pert to the Balkan Peninsula, the Balkan mountain range, or the people of Balkan states." This converts no information, but you can bet your bottom dollar it's not going to become obsolete. Under "BALKANIZE" Webster's warns almost explicitly: "...the Balkan States (Bulgaria, Rumania, Serbia, etc.) ... but that 'Yugo' is an escape clause as wide as the Strait of Otranto. About 'LEVANT' Webster's is even more reticent. 'The countries washed by, or near to, the eastern Mediterranean.' Try to make something out of that.

We don't know how the World Book Encyclopedia could write this thing for all time, but we can make a crafty guess. "BOULDER DAM: A dam on the Colorado River. Cf. HOOPER DAM." "HOOPER DAM: A dam on the Colorado River. Cf. BOULDER DAM." It is obvious, it's not rising too much to put the Colorado in a class with the Mediterranean, and assume that it is here to stay.

Grampaw Oakley: PUNKIN CORNERS, March 27. Dear Sir n' Brother: Wal, I see by the papers where a Hungarian has mastered the knack of sleeping with his eyes open. I'm not much impressed. Many a baseball umpire learned the trick years ago.

An expedition plans to study comic rays from the top of Mt. McKinley. Wal, a mountain peak seems like the ideal place to go if one wants the cold facts! And say: Babies, I read, try to imitate grownpuns. In that why they always are hawking about something? Hopia! you air the same. GRAMPAW, NED OAKLEY.

Name and address of writer must be submitted as evidence of good faith but will be withheld from publication on request. Poetry and communications advocating the election of political candidates are not acceptable.

By MERCURY READERS

Needed: Strong Christians To the Editor: What Pottstown and vicinity needs is stronger Christians, not muscularly strong but morally strong.

We need people who live by the Golden Rule down to others as they would be done by. Then all the bickering and fault finding, all the sneering and belittling, all the snow shoveling and dog barking problems, all the traffic and labor problems would be gone and done.

I realize there are many who can never be brought around to this way of thinking. And the idea cannot be carried out by a few, not only of the church, nor by added laws or extra cops but by a day-to-day effort for everyone to do better every day.

Let's start a campaign for Golden Rule living. Lend a helping hand rather than a criticizing tongue. Wear a friendly smile instead of a frown and co-operate with rather than quarrel with your neighbor, and you will find Pottstown and vicinity a better place to live in.

Pottstown TOLERANT

THERE'S STILL TIME -- to write your letter on what Pottstown and its area needs most and still qualify for a prize.

But tomorrow the contest closes, and after then no more entries will be accepted. So write your letter today. It may win you the top award of $10. Other prizes are $5, $3 and $2. Decision of the judges is final. Readers Say rules prevail.

Experienced Police Wanted To the Editor: You can only fight a bad idea with a better idea and then support that better idea with planning.

A better idea requires not a modification of but a complete change of previous policies. It also requires an intelligent, penetrating knowledge of Pottstown and its blundering lack of foresight. Sharp, consistent criticism gave Pottstown at least one black eye in the past. The master minds at borough hall remind me of a mule going through a tunnel with a shield over its eyes.

First, the Pottstown law enforcement department still lacks an adequate trained personnel. It is not always just how many men you have on a police force. It is how much training each man had for the position.

Second, with Pottstown growing they need at least two plainclothesmen who have had training and experience.

And as for traffic, stop all left-hand turns off High street and all left-hand turns onto High street between York and Washington streets. Use side streets as one-way streets running north and south.

The whole trouble is Pottstown has too many procrastinators in office. Pottstown C. M.

What Pottstown Needs Most By NANCY WOLCOTT Pottstown needs first a few people in council who will think of the betterment of the community and not worry over every step they take for fear of losing their job. It might open Pottstown's eyes to the fact that a few changes may cost more now but be cheaper in the long run.

Most of all, Pottstown needs a municipal waterworks and garbage collection. With all the different garbage rates and rules in town, it isn't fair to the families forced to employ some of the harsh collectors. Refuse is dumped in various places but most in the Schuylkill river near where our drinking water is drawn.

This can be prevented by building an incinerator for refuse and a tank for water. Then the water could be pumped from springs or wells. The water would be much cleaner and would taste better.

By BETTY GRIFFITHS Several things could be improved upon: garbage collection, drinking water and erection of street signs.

A town the size of Pottstown should have adequate provisions for the collection of garbage. It is unsanitary and depressing to have refuse cluttering up peoples' yards until they make arrangements with a private firm to have it removed.

That the health of this community is not greatly impaired by the water is a wonder. Most residents buy water for drinking if they can afford it; others suffer. Arrangements for a reservoir should be made so Pottstown could have spring water.

By VIRGINIA LINTON Pottstown is in desperate need of money and an aggressive leader.

It needs a leader who will work to better the community instead of being afraid to go ahead because his party may not be elected next time. If general improvements are made, the citizens will elect those who are getting something done.

By just paying a few dollars more in taxes, wouldn't it be better to have all the nice things in town and better teachers who would be paid more and who can educate our children in the ways of peace?

By SAMUEL FLORINI Pottstown needs a larger police force. Although it may mean more taxes, it will be worth it. Recently a robbery occurred and the victim did not catch the thief and no policemen were around.

OPA's Economics A Moot Question

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The effectiveness of OPA's contribution to a comparatively stable economic structure during the war years probably will be a matter of bitter and political debate for many years, because it was rarely that Washington named a problem that was more clouded by emotion, pocketbook passion and prejudice.

As he forecast, the original price-fixer, Leon Henderson, became and still is one of the nation's most unpopular and most-loved men.

In preparing to wind up his affairs on June 30, however, Henderson is writing a report to the effect that prices of key items which enter into the everyday budget—rents, food, clothing, etc.—would have risen three times as high if it had not been for the imposition of federal ceilings. And they maintain that it will be difficult for opponents of controls to offer proof to the contrary.

MEASURE: Confidential figures compiled by several less prejudiced government departments do provide a fairly exact measure of the extent of the inflationary trend from 1940 to 1946. These studies, as well as the experience of the years after World War I, also suggest that there may be no appreciable decline in the current level until the summer or fall of 1949.

Even then, it is almost certain that prices will not fall by more than 20 percent. Never, even after conflicts far less devastating than the recent struggle, has the cost of living dropped to prewar standards.

Such comparative skirmishes as the 1861-1865 affair and the Spanish War, in which the nation fought to victory with millions instead of billions at a time when our economic system was relatively primitive, sent living costs to a permanently higher plane.

COST: Regardless of future prospects, the evidence shows that the 1940-46 inflationary movement added approximately $109,000,000,000 (b) to the nation's retail bill, if 1935-39 prices are taken as a basing point.

Further analysis presents a new and less rosy picture of our so-called wartime prosperity. From 1940 to 1946, the dollar value of all retail sales totaled the amazing figure of $468,000,000,000 (b), or $125,000,000,000 (b) more than the American cost of the war.

GAIN: But in terms of 1935-39 prices, consumers got only $360,500,000,000 (b) worth of goods for this 466 billion dollars. To present this phenomenon more graphically: Dollar sales in 1940 amounted to $46,400,000,000 (b). In 1946, they were $96,700,000,000, a gain of 108 percent. But this $67 billion dollars had only the purchasing power of $2.6 billion dollars in terms of 1935-39 prices.

In other words, buyers spent 90 percent more money and got only 36 percent more goods.

INDEX: The upward trend was most spectacular in 1946, when prices increased 18 percent over 1945's level. Moreover, this movement has persisted through the first quarter of 1947, so that the current cost of living understands at 50 percent above the 1935-1939 scale.

The economist has no ready answer to the question of when these forces pressing against the price structure will spend themselves. They merely hazard the guess that prudent management of public and private money may produce a downturn of 20 percent, possibly 25, by mid-1949.

YOUR HEALTH By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D. When a patient has his gall-bladder removed because of inflammation or gallstones, he expects to be relieved of the painful symptoms which troubled him before operation. And, in most instances, he is relieved, but unfortunately for such a patient, occasionally he develops symptoms after his operation similar to those the operation was designed to cure.

This is a very puzzling and unsatisfactory situation. The trouble-making gall-bladder is gone and yet the trouble continues in the form of pain in the right upper part of the abdomen, indigestion, the formation of large amounts of gas in the stomach and bowel and often nausea.

The secondary pain comes on suddenly, sometimes passing into the back and upward into the right shoulder. After it subsides, tenderness of the muscle often persists.

Such attacks may come at varying periods after operation, sometimes making their appearance within a few months, in other instances holding off for as long as ten years.

According to Dr. Maurice Lee, of England, these symptoms are in some cases due to spasm of a muscle which controls the flow of bile from the liver into the small intestine. Under ordinary conditions during digestion this muscle relaxes, the gallbladder contracts and bile is then discharged into the small intestine. However, after removal of the gallbladder, spasm of this muscle keeps the bile from emptying into the intestine and this is responsible for the pain and other symptoms which develop.

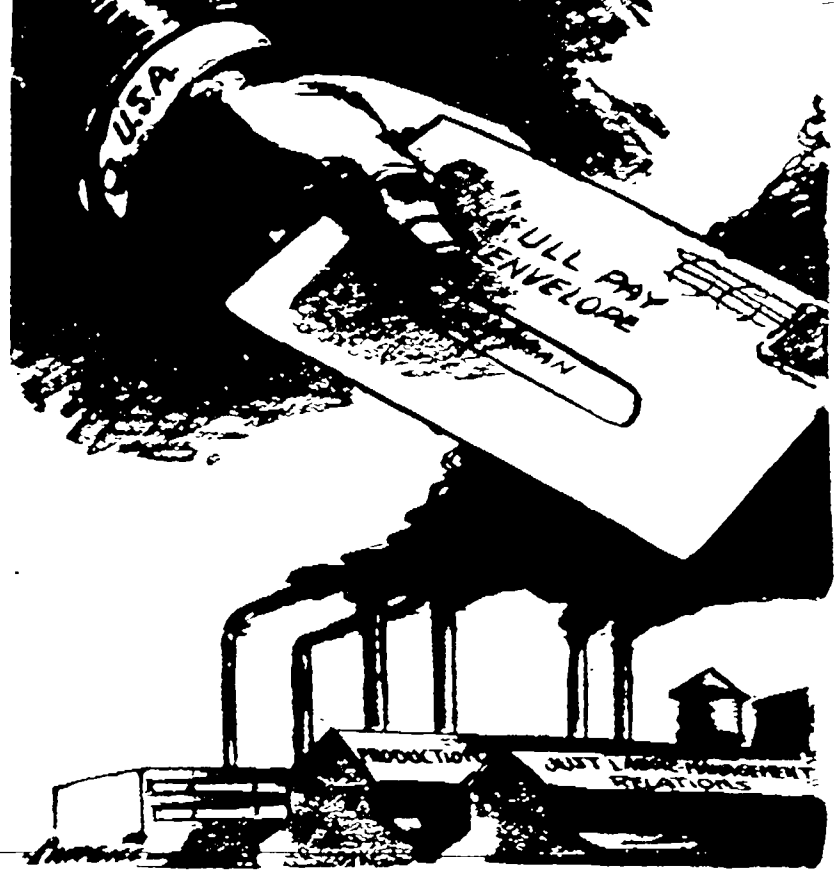

In treating the disorder, the doctor finds that such drugs as amyl nitrite or nuregine are often found to be helpful in relieving the attacks of pain, since they tend to relax the muscle spasm. If there is pain which continues over a long period of time, certain preparations which act like atropine may also be employed to help relax the muscle spasm.

If the symptoms persist even with this treatment, further operative measures may be necessary. Following this operation a permanent cure usually results.

In Hollywood Bridge

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, March 27.—My frequently expressed belief that movies seen by adolescents must be strictly censored because they are bound to affect the moral concepts of those who see them has been ridiculed on so many occasions by Hollywoodites who advocate a completely untrammeled screen, that I want to quote a few paragraphs from the official production code of the MPA. Here they are:

"Art enters intimately into the lives of human beings. Art can be morally good, lifting men to higher levels. This has been done through good music, great painting, authentic fiction, poetry, drama. Art can be morally evil in its effects. This is the case clearly enough with unclear art, indecent books, suggestive drama. The effect on the lives of men and women is obvious.

"The Motion picture art appeals at once to every class, mature, immature, developed, undeveloped, law abiding, criminal. The latter given to film material cannot, in consequence be as wide as the latitude given to book material.

"No picture shall be produced which will lower the moral standards of those who see it. Hence the sympathy of the audience should never be thrown to the side of crime, wrong doing, evil or sin. This is done when evil is made to appear attractive or alluring. The same thing is true of a film that would throw sympathy against goodness, honor, innocence, purity or honesty.

"Scenes of passion must be treated with an honest acknowledgment of human nature and its normal reaction. Many scenes cannot be presented without arousing dangerous emotions on the part of the immature, the young, or the criminal classes.

"Nudity or semi-nudity used simply to put a 'punch' into a picture comes under the head of immoral actions. It is immoral in its effect on the average audience. Transparent materials and silhouette are frequently more suggestive than actual exposure."

It seems to me that the members of the Motion Picture Producers Association, in compiling their official, but often violated code, fully endorsed my belief that movies can affect audience morals.

MEMORIES THAT BLESS AND BURN: When Lee Tracy scornfully vowed that he'd eat any fish I caught while trolling from his yacht one mid-winter day—and had to make good by downing fillet of shark ... When Director Leo McCarey's musings gave him $10 to bet for her on a certain horse at Santa Anita, and he, disbelieving, lost his choice, failed to post the wager. The horse won and paid 12-to-1 ... When Red Skelton's director, in revenge for the comic's many practical jokes, started a scene in which Skelton wore a straight jacket—and then, leaving him helplessly tied up, led the rest of the troupe away to lunch.

Vali, the beautiful Italian star imported by David O. Selznick for the top role in "The Paradine Case," is not without a sense of humor. Every day, for four weeks, her role required her to sit in silence on the courtroom set, while attorneys and witnesses did all the talking. At long last came the day when she was to speak her first dialogue lines. Rising regally to her feet, she poured an accusatory finger at her co-star, Louis Jourdan, and, in carefully but secretly acquired American slang, announced: "All I gotta say is that this hoodlum is fanning the breeze!"

The Worry Clinic By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE SELMA P., 30, is a charming society woman. "I've been married for five years—most happily," she added. "But during the last two months I have sensed a change in my husband.

"At first it was intuition on my part, for I couldn't tell just what made me feel as though I was growing cooler toward me. In the last few weeks, however, I have learned that he is developing a great fondness for his secretary.

"Dr. Crane, I can see the handwriting on the wall. I have tried to be a perfect companion for my husband, playing golf and tennis with him, swimming and going to the races.

"His friends were always welcome. I've learned to drink and smoke so I could be more sociable and fit into their lives. My husband is a wonderful man, and I'm heartbroken over the way things have turned out.

"Dr. Crane, I'd give anything in the world to win my husband back. How can I do it, and why have I lost him?" Selma's trouble lay in the fact that she had masculinized herself too much after marriage. When her husband was courting her, she was extremely feminine. In order to be a perfect pal, however, she thought she ought to do what her husband did.

Within reasonable limits, such action is all right. But Selma overdid it. First, she had her hair bobbed. It didn't make her look unattractive, but her husband preferred her with long hair, for that's how she wore it when he fell in love with her.

Selma failed to realize that men are most attracted to women who are distinctly feminine. At the moment, her masculine, who aren't masculine, a man vaguely resents having a woman appear masculine, for he doesn't want to kiss a "half-man."

Sexual charm depends largely on opposites as regards anatomy, apparel, and many social habits. For example, men do not like to hear a woman use masculine language, such as profanity. Even slang is a detriment, for slang is chiefly masculine in origin.

Men like to feel that they are tough and hardboiled, but they want their women to shed tears over a child's pain or sorrow. They want them to be fond of babies and social service work. They prefer religious women. And they like to feel stronger than women, which is why they even want women to be afraid of mice!

Men like musical girls, but they don't as a rule like professional or business women; for business and the professions are masculine. Besides, an efficient and brilliant woman makes a man feel uncomfortable.

Selma began re-feminizing herself, for the other girl's appeal lay in her clinging behavior, a picture hat, delicate femininity, etc. Selma stopped being a slave to social engagements, and tried a little housekeeping.

A flour smudge on a pretty nose is quite feminizing, and so is motherhood! Selma won out, of course, for the odds favor wives, if they will just play their cards seductively!

A Welcome Action

POTTSTOWN'S American Legion set a fine example when it assumed all costs for staging the annual Memorial Day observance.

Time was when the American Legion was struggling to keep its head above the rising tide of debts. Today George A. Amole post is financially independent. It can afford to pay the Memorial Day bill.

But another lesson may be gleaned from this action.

The American Legion probably recognizes its debt to the community. It is tax free. It obtains many services, including police protection, fire protection, sewer conveniences, etc., without cost.

So, now it shows its appreciation for these benefits by turning back to the borough of Pottstown an appropriation of $500.

A noble gesture.

The action might be considered by other tax free organizations in Pottstown.

They too, get all the services the American Legion and other householders receive. Their streets are paved, their corners are lighted. And at no cost.

What would prevent them from making an annual contribution to the borough, which sorely needs money?

Other communities in Montgomery county receive gifts from like institutions, especially in the lower end of the shire. There contributions are made both to the local government, and to the school board.

Those governing bodies are appreciative of the gifts. Pottstown likely would be grateful.

Leading the Fight

FATHER BALLY COUNCIL, Knights of Columbus, is leading the fight in Pottstown against communism.

The Pottstown organization, guided by Grand Knight Stephen J. Vagasky, has branded itself an arch foe of the Russian theory of government, has declared war on the "ism" that outlaws religion.

The Knights of Columbus are to be encouraged in their fight, in their courage for opposing subversive movements. That they come out openly to combat the dreaded Soviet theories is reason enough for commendation.

The Pottstown group may best oppose communism by contrasting life under American democracy and the situation of labor, religion and personal liberty in the Soviet.

Here Today, Renamed Tomorrow

THE World Book Encyclopedia says it will have to go to a lot of trouble if the name of Boulder Dam is changed back to Hoover. That should be a lesson to the World Book Encyclopedia in the transience of human affairs. The editors report that they will have to move the whole dam article from Volume B to Volume H, and check articles on Arizona, Nevada and California to be sure the new name is used.

Perhaps the World Book Encyclopedia has been too trusting. We refer it to that cagey old cynic, Webster's New International Dictionary. The editors of that work are making no bets that just because a thing is called by a certain name today, it is going to be called by that same name tomorrow. An exception is the Mediterranean Sea, in which the G. & C. Merriam company seems to have considerable confidence.

Take the term "the Balkans." Webster's does not intend to be left out on a limb by anything like European politics. They can change the names of Serbia and Montenegro to Yugoslavia today, and tomorrow they could be calling it the Carpatho-Ukraine, and nobody could pin a thing on Webster's New International Dictionary.

"BALKAN," says the latest edition carefully. "Of or pert. to the Balkan Peninsula, the Balkan mountain range, or the people of Balkan states." This conveys no information, but you can bet your bottom dollar it's not going to become obsolete. Under "BALKANIZE" Webster's waxes almost explicit—. . . the Balkan States (Bulgaria, Rumania, Serbia, etc.). . . —but that "etc." is an escape clause as wide as the Strait of Otranto. About "LEVANT" Webster's is even more retiring. "The countries washed by, or near to, the eastern Mediterranean." Try to make something out of that.

We don't know how the World Book Encyclopedia could settle this thing for all time, but we can make a crafty guess. "BOULDER DAM. A dam on the Colorado River. Cf. HOOVER DAM." "HOOVER DAM. A dam on the Colorado River. Cf. BOULDER DAM." If, of course, it's not risking too much to put the Colorado in a class with the Mediterranean, and assume that it is here to stay.

Needed: Strong Christians

To the Editor: What Pottstown and vicinity needs is stronger Christians, not muscularly strong but morally strong.

We need people who live by the Golden Rule doing to others as they would be done by. Then all the bickering and fault finding, all the thieving and killing, all the snow shoveling and dog biting problems, all the traffic and labor problems would be gone and done.

I realize there are many who can never be brought around to this way of thinking. And the idea cannot be carried out by a few, not only by the church, nor by added laws or extra cops but by a day-to-day effort for everyone to do better every day.

Let's start a campaign for Golden Rule living. Lend a helping hand rather than a criticizing tongue, wear a friendly smile instead of a frown and co-operate with rather than quarrel with your neighbor, and you will find Pottstown and vicinity a better place to live in.

THERE'S STILL TIME

But tomorrow the contest closes, and after then no more entries will be accepted. So write your letter today. It may win you the top award of $10. Other prizes are $5, $3 and $2. Decision of the judges is final. Readers say rules prevail.

Experienced Police Wanted

To the Editor: You can only fight a bad idea with a better idea and then support that better idea with planning. A better idea requires not a modification of but a complete change of previous policies. It also requires an intelligent, penetrating knowledge of Pottstown and its blundering lack of foresight. Sharp, concrete criticism gave Pottstown at least one black eye in the past. The master minds at borough hall remind me of a mule going through a tunnel with a shield over its eyes.

First, the Pottstown law enforcement department still lacks an adequate trained personnel. It is not always just how many men you have on a police force. It is how much training each man had for the position.

Second, with Pottstown growing they need at least two plainclothesmen who have had training and experience.

And as for traffic, stop all left-hand turns off High street and all left-hand turns onto High street between York and Washington streets. Use sidestreets as one-way streets running north and south.

The whole trouble is Pottstown has too many procrastinators in office.

Pottstown High School Seniors Say

What Pottstown Needs Most

By NANCY WOLCOTT

Pottstown needs first a few people in council who will think of the betterment of the community and not worry over every step they take for fear of losing their job. It might open Pottstown's eyes to the fact that a few changes may cost more now but be cheaper in the long run.

Most of all, Pottstown needs a municipal waterworks and garbage collection. With all the different garbage rates and rules in town, it isn't fair to the families forced to employ some of the harsh collectors. Refuse is dumped in various places but most in the Schuylkill river near where our drinking water is drawn. This can be prevented by building an incinerator for refuse and a tank for water. Then the water could be pumped from springs or wells. The water would be much cleaner and would taste better.

By BETTY GRIFFITHS

Several things could be improved upon: garbage collection, drinking water and erection of street signs.

A town the size of Pottstown should have adequate provisions for the collection of garbage. It is unsanitary and depressing to have refuse cluttering up peoples' yards until they make arrangements with a private firm to have it removed.

That the health of this community is not greatly impaired by the water is a wonder. Most residents buy water for drinking if they can afford it; others suffer. Arrangements for a reservoir would be made so Pottstown could have spring water.

By VIRGINIA LINTON

Pottstown is in desperate need of money and an aggressive leader.

It needs a leader who will work to better the community instead of being afraid to go ahead because his party may not be elected next time. If general improvements are made, the citizens will elect those who are getting something done.

By just paying a few dollars more in taxes, wouldn't it be better to have all the nice things in town and better teachers who would be paid more and who can educate our children in the ways of peace?

By SAMUEL FIORINI

Pottstown needs a larger police force. Although it may mean more taxes, it will be worth it. Recently a robbery occurred and the victim did not catch the thief and no policemen were around.

If policemen were patrolling the section, they could have captured the thief and be sure they had the right person. If there were more policemen, the thief has a better chance of being captured.

By JENNIE GREY

More recreation centers are what Pottstown needs most. It needs them for all denominations, no matter what your race, color or creed may be.

Centers are needed for children and teenagers, also for men and women, for if they had places to play baseball, basketball, bowl, swim, etc., it would eliminate a lot of card playing, gambling and drinking. Boys and girls would have places to go instead of hanging around on the streets, thinking of mischievous things to do.

More recreation centers would help the health of young people.

WASHINGTON

OPA's Economies A Moot Question

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, March 27—The effectiveness of OPA's contribution to a comparatively stable economic structure during the war years probably will be a matter of bitter and political debate for many years, because Washington handled a problem that was more clouded by emotion, pocketbook passion and prejudice.

As he forecast, the original price-fixer, Leon Henderson, became and still is one of the nation's most unpopular and most unloved men.

In preparing to wind up their affairs on June 30, however, lingering OPA-ers are writing a report to the effect that prices of key items enter into the everyday budget—rents, food, clothing, etc.—would have risen three times as high if it had not been for the imposition of federal ceilings. And they maintain that it will be difficult for opponents of controls to offer proof to the contrary.

MEASURE: Confidential figures compiled by several less prejudiced government departments do provide a fairly exact measure of the extent of the inflationary trend from 1940 to 1946. These studies, as well as the experience of the years after World War I, also suggest that there may be no appreciable decline in the current level until the summer or fall of 1949.

Even then, it is almost certain that prices will not fall by more than 20 percent. Never, even after conflicts far less devastating than the recent struggle, has the cost of living dropped to prewar standards.

Such comparative skirmishes as the 1861-1865 affair and the Spanish War, in which the nation fought to victory with millions instead of billions at a time when our economic system was relatively primitive, sent living costs to a permanently higher plane.

COST: Regardless of future prospects, the evidence shows that the 1940-46 inflationary movement added approximately $105,000,000,000 (b) to the nation's retail bill, if 1935-39 prices are taken as a basing point.

Further analysis presents a new and less rosy picture of our so-called wartime prosperity.

From 1940 to 1946, the dollar value of all retail sales totaled the amazing figure of $466,000,000,000 (b), or $125,000,000,000 (b) more than the American cost of the war.

GAIN: But in terms of 1935-39 prices, consumers got only $360,500,000,000 (b) worth of goods for this 466 billion dollars. To present this phenomenon more graphically: Dollar sales in 1940 amounted to $46,400,000,000 (b). In 1946, they were $96,700,000,000, a gain of 108 percent. But this 96.7 billion dollars had only the purchasing power of 62.6 billion dollars in terms of 1935-39 prices.

In other words, buyers spent 90 percent more money and got only 36 percent more goods.

INDEX: The upward trend was most spectacular in 1946, when prices increased 18 percent over 1945's level. Moreover, this movement has persisted through the first quarter of 1947, so that the current cost of living index stands at 50 percent above the 1935-1939 scale.

The economists have no ready answer to the question of when these forces pressing against the price structure will spend themselves. They merely hazard the guess that prudent management of public and private money may produce a downturn of 20 percent, possibly 25, by mid-1949.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

When a patient has his gall-bladder removed because of inflammation or gallstones, he expects to be relieved of the painful symptoms which troubled him before operation. And, in most instances, he is relieved, but unfortunately for such a patient, occasionally he develops symptoms after his operation similar to those the operation was designed to cure.

This is a very puzzling and unsatisfactory situation. The trouble-making gall-bladder is gone and yet the trouble continues in the form of pain in the right upper part of the abdomen, indigestion, the formation of large amounts of gas in the stomach and bowel and often nausea.

The secondary pain comes on suddenly, sometimes passing into the back and upward into the right shoulder. After it subsides, tenderness of the muscle often persists.

Such attacks may come at varying periods after operation, sometimes making their appearance within a few months, in other instances holding off for as long as ten years.

According to Dr. Maurice Lee, of England, these symptoms are in some cases due to spasm of a muscle which controls the flow of bile from the liver into the small intestine. Under ordinary conditions during digestion this muscle relaxes, the gallbladder contracts and bile is then discharged into the small intestine. However, after removal of the gallbladder, spasm of this muscle keeps the bile from emptying into the intestine and this is responsible for the pain and other symptoms which develop.

In treating the disorder, the doctor finds that such drugs as amyl nitrite or nitroglycerin are often found to be helpful in relieving the attacks of pain, since they tend to relax the muscle spasm. If there is pain which continues over a long period of time, certain preparations which act like atropine may also be employed to help relax the muscle spasm. The giving of bile salts and magnesium sulfate also, would seem to help drain the bile passages.

If the symptoms persist even with this treatment, further operative measures may be necessary. Following this operation a permanent cure usually results.

ANSWER TO COMMUNISM

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, March 27 — My frequently expressed belief that movies seen by adolescents must be strictly censored because they are bound to affect the moral concepts of those who see them has been ridiculed on so many occasions by Hollywoodites who advocate a completely untrammelled screen, that I want to quote a few paragraphs from the official production code of the MPAA. Here they are:

"Art enters intimately into the lives of human beings. Art can be morally good, lifting men to higher levels. This has been done through good music, great painting, authentic fiction, poetry, drama. Art can be morally evil in its effects. This is the case clearly enough with unclean art, indecent books, suggestive drama. The effect on the lives of men and women is obvious."

"The Motion picture art appeals at once to every class, mature, immature, developed, undeveloped, law abiding, criminal. The latitude given to film material cannot, in consequence, be as wide as the latitude given to book material. "No picture shall be produced which will lower the moral standards of those who see it. Hence the sympathy of the audience should never be thrown to the side of crime, wrong doing, evil or sin. This is done when evil is made to appear attractive or alluring. The same thing is true of a film that would throw sympathy against goodness, honor, innocence, purity or honesty."

"Scenes of passion must be treated with an honest acknowledgment of human nature and its normal reaction. Many scenes cannot be presented without arousing dangerous emotions on the part of the immature, the young, or the criminal classes."

"Nudity or semi-nudity used simply to put a 'punch' into a picture comes under the head of immoral actions. It is immoral in its effect on the average audience. Transparent materials and silhouette are frequently more suggestive than actual exposure."

It seems to me that the members of the Motion Picture Producers Association, in compiling their official, but often violated code, fully endorsed my belief that movies can affect audience morals.

MEMORIES THAT BLESS

downing file of shark. . . . When Director Leo McCarey's missus gave him $10 to bet for her on a certain horse at Santa Anita, and he, disapproving of her choice, failed to post the wager. The horse won and paid $2-to-1. . . . When Red Skelton's director, in revenge for the comic's many practical jokes, started a scene in which Skelton wore a straight jacket—and then, leaving him helplessly tied up, led the rest of the troupe away to lunch.

Vall, the beautiful Italian star imported by David O. Selznick for the top role in "The Paradine Case," is not without a sense of humor. Every day, for four weeks, her role required her to sit in silence on the courtroom set, while attorneys and witnesses did all the talking. At long last came the day when she was to speak her first dialogue lines. Rising regally to her feet, she pointed an accusing finger at her co-star, Louis Jourdan, and, in carefully but secretly acquired American slang, announced: "All I gotta say is that this hoodlum is fanning the breeze!"

Dr. Walter Damrosch's Retirement To End Brilliant Musical Career

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Dr. Walter Damrosch, 85-year-old conductor who capped an illustrious career by pioneering in bringing great music to millions by radio, said today he viewed his impending "final" retirement next week as a milestone to be passed without regret.

Interviewed in the study of his comfortable Brownstone home east of Central Park, where he was found vigorously attacking a bluish upright piano, Damrosch explained he spent "four or five hours a day" at the keyboard.

"Who knows?" he chuckled. "If I practice hard enough, maybe I'll come out of retirement and make my debut at Carnegie Hall at 86."

Damrosch, white-haired but hearty and sturdy in appearance, ends his tenure as musical counsel to the National Broadcasting Company Monday after almost 20 years on the job, and he agreed with a shrug and a smile that this would mark the end of his long and varied career in music.

"After all I'm 85," he said. "I will continue to do a little composing, only for my personal pleasure. I attend the concerts of the Philharmonic Symphony and I listen to the many programs of good music that the radio provides."

The conductor first "retired" in 1926 after the New York Symphony orchestra which he had led for 40 years merged with the Philharmonic.

But, a year later, at 65, he began a new career—a series of radio broadcasts designed to bring the music of the masters to schools and homes throughout the United States.

It was these programs, which featured his own explanations of the music, that gave him perhaps the greatest satisfaction in his 69 years of activity as a musician and conductor, he said. More than 7,000,000 school children as well as millions of adults heard them regularly.

"These broadcasts were wonderfully exciting to me, just like a rebirth," he said. "The radio is the greatest instrument for the culture of the masses ever invented. There is no question it has enormously improved and extended American interest in fine music."

The German-born Damrosch also recalled with evident pleasure two incidents tying him to the early days of institutions which still are New York's music mecca—Carnegie Hall and the Metropolitan Opera House.

Seek Murder Verdict Against Former WAC

PHILADELPHIA, March 27 (AP)—Four men testified today that a 27-year-old former WAC told them she killed a man shortly before police found the body of Paul DiGenovaro, 46, in a room of the hotel Normandie the past Jan. 25.

The commonwealth announced it re-opened its case against Mrs. Carolyn Kanuk after William Winter, a taxicab driver, left the stand. It seeks a verdict of first degree murder.

Winter, pointing to Mrs. Kanuk in the courtroom, described how she insisted on telling him she had killed a man.

Winter said that after he picked Mrs. Kanuk up in front of the hotel "We rode around a little while and then she put her hands up on the driver's seat and asked 'do you want to see the body? Don't you believe me? Then she started to grab around my neck and said 'That's how I did it.'"

DiGenovaro, the father of five children, was found strangled to death with his own necktie in a third floor room of the hotel.

Earlier at the trial, an elevator operator Henry Ford told the jury of four men and eight women that Mrs. Kanuk apparently was not intoxicated when she left the hotel on the morning of Jan. 25.

Assistant district attorney Raymond A. Speiser charged that the former WAC killed DiGenovaro in a "wilful, deliberate and premeditated murder" while committing a robbery.

Thieves Thwarted In Robbery Here

Thieves apparently using a heavy hammer and a crowbar early yesterday failed to open a steel safe at the Snow-Pottstown airport of John J. Basco situated on Glasgow street, Snow. The safe according to Basco contained valuable papers but little cash. Entrance to the airport office was gained by smashing a pane of glass in a door and then unfastening the door-latch.

The intruders ransacked a desk throwing business papers and records around the floor. Some valuable tools were stolen.

Basco said he closed the office at 10 o'clock Wednesday night. At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the office was visited by Private Hill of the West Reading State police barracks. The officer later notified Basco who had not yet opened the place for business, of the intrusion. Hill had planned to discuss airplane operation requirements with Basco.

The prowlers broke two hinges of the safe door and also hammered the door handle, but they could not open the safe.

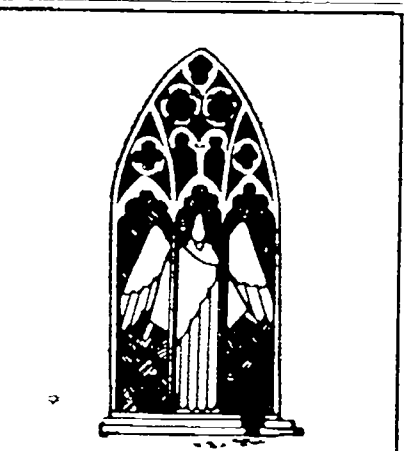

MOLOTOV —

French Minister Georges Bidault and British Secretary Ernest Bevin had insisted that it was necessary to define what constitutes German assets in Austria. They maintained that the Germans had seized much Austrian and United Nations property without payment, and this could not be considered German although it was in German hands at the end of the war.

In partial acceptance of a French proposal, Molotov suggested that the deputy foreign ministers be instructed to "prepare a definition of German assets excluding property seized by the Germans by direct force, or as measure of aryanization without compensation from the United Nations or Austrians."

The French proposal would have the deputies prepare a "definition of German assets excluding all property taken by force or duress, and in general unduly taken by the Germans from the United Nations or Austria for religious, political and racial reasons."

only Republican to speak against the bill, shouted that it "gives a man who made the biggest profits during the war the biggest tax relief."

He asked to whom the campaign promise to reduce taxes was made by the Republicans—"was it to those in the low-income group, including farmers and workers, or was it to the wealthy persons who were best able to kick into the political campaign fund?"

He said several wealthy persons had threatened to attempt his defeat for election next year unless he changes his views.

Scientists estimate there are about 20,000 earth tremors annually.

Spring Hides as Cold Keeps Winter Here

Did somebody mention Spring? Or was he talking about the things inside mattresses or on the ends of polo sticks.

Yesterday, six days after the first day of Spring, Winter was dead but he wouldn't let down.

Shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning about an inch of snow fell and the mercury crept down to 17 and the mercury crept down to 17.

Later in the day, even though heavy banks of clouds hid the sun, the temperature rose to 45, wiping away all traces of the light blanket of snow.

of snow.

The Weatherman predicts an almost exact duplication of yesterday for today with snow early this morning and continued cloudy and cold today. Tomorrow he hopes to be a little warmer but still cloudy.

BAND LEADER DIVORCED

LOS ANGELES, March 27 (AP) — Jack Teagarden, jazz trombonist and dance band leader, was divorced today by his second wife, Adeline, who testified he likes to talk only two things — steam engines and music.

SUGAR CONTROL —

marked that he had "no fear of any great national scandal" and asked Tolley why he made the charge.

Tolley replied that the Oct. 31 deadline would put speculators "on notice" when they can make the sale whereas the longer control period would "make speculators blind."

"The speculators are not blind tonight," Tolley yelled.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) scoffed at the thought that there would be hoarding of sugar before October 31 end of controls.

"Who can hoard when inventory controls and rationing are in effect and he can't get any more sugar than he needs?" he asked.

Senator Butler (R-Neb) issued a statement with passage of the measure asserting that "farmers should plan sugar beet to the limit, now that they know price controls will come off of sugar next October and they will get a good price."

The Senate would put sugar banding in the hands of the secretary of agriculture with authority to wipe out controls any time he finds supplies warrant it.

Two Cuban Senators Cross Swords in Duel

HAVANA, Cuba, March 27 (AP)—Two Cuban senators duelled today in the fencing room of the National Capitol and both were wounded.

They crossed swords over charges arising from the slay in Havana of Charles (Lucas) Luciano, former New York vice president who recently was deported to Cuba.

Senator Eduardo Chibas, 41, who was fighting his first duel, received a minor wound in the right side.

His opponent, Senator Francisco Pro Socarras, 49, was fighting his first duel but came off with only a slight wound in the right arm.

Duelling is forbidden under rules of the Cuban Senate. The lawmaking body, in a communique, said the two senators were wounded while "examining swords" and had heeded the appeal of Dr. Miguel Suarez Fernandez, president of the Senate to terminate the incident. The two senators have settled their dispute the communique added.

Pro Socarras issued the challenge because of accusations in Congress by Chibas concerning a aged protection extended to Luciano. Chibas had mentioned a brother of Prime Minister Carlos Prío Socarras, the challenging senator, who is a brother of the prime minister, took this reference as a reflection on his honor.

PROPOSES BILL FOR PRESIDENT TO HALT STRIKE

Representative Hartley Suggests Measure Against Telephone Tie-up

WASHINGTON, March 27 (P)—An emergency bill to arm President Truman with an injunction club against the threatened telephone strike was announced late today by Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.), chairman of the House Labor committee.

The temporary measure, a stop-gap until a general union-curbing bill can be passed, would amend the Norris-LaGuardia Anti-Injunction Act and enable the administration to get a court order stopping any strike the President considers a threat to "public health, safety or welfare."

Hartley told newsmen he will ask the committee to recommend the bill to the House on Monday and "anticipates no difficulty" in getting its approval. He said he already had canvassed a majority of the members and none opposed it.

Even so, the measure could scarcely pass both House and Senate and reach the President's desk by April 7. But it might be used to halt the strike in its early stages, if Mr. Truman sanctions the measure. It would be up to him whether to invoke it, if he signed it.

Hartley said the nation faces a "serious" crisis in communications. He said his measure is designed to meet the threat not only of a telephone strike by the National Federation of Telephone Workers but also of the "A" possible sympathy strike of the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians.

Furthermore, Hartley said he is advised of the possibility of "some difficulty at Western Union," and in the paper industry, which he said may be tied up by a possible strike of the Foundrymen Wire Weavers Protective Association. He explained that "foundrymen wire is needed to produce certain kinds of paper used in books and magazines."

Hartley said the bill is not yet finished. Some "kinks" remain. He proposes that it be effective only until Congress passes an over-all labor bill. This over-all bill, he hopes, will "obviate" the need for such authority to the President.

STRIKE CAUSES MILK EMBARGO ON SHIPMENTS

Railroad Refuses To Accept Milk From Louisiana Area

AMITE, La., March 27 (P)—The Illinois Central railroad clamped an embargo today on milk shipments through the Louisiana parishes of Louisiana where a non-union farmer has been wounded and thousands of gallons of milk seized during a strike of carrymen for higher wholesale prices.

O. C. Stein, Illinois Central official, announced that no milk will be accepted aboard trains anywhere along the line between Memphis and New Orleans. Several trains have been searched during stops here, and bands of men twice forced the sidetracking of cars containing milk, which was spilled onto the ground. Federal officers are investigating.

Otis Baham, 24-year-old official of the dairy farmers' cooperative at Kenwood, La., was wounded in the arm last night when he refused to stop his automobile on one of the stretches of road being patrolled by strikers attempting to halt truck shipments of milk to New Orleans.

Mrs. Baham and Lucius McCoy escaped injury as a group of men opened fire with shotguns and gave chase in automobiles until Baham dove into his farm. Baham reported the affair to police. He is not producing milk during the strike, and had none in his car.

C. I. Russell, president of the Amite local No. 16 of the AFI-affiliated dairy employees, chauffeurs and maintenance employees, said he had no knowledge of the shooting. "I think the report is false," he said.

3000 DIAPERS FOR BERLIN
BERLIN, March 27 (P)—More than 3000 diapers arrived by air today from Philadelphia for delivery to two Berlin hospitals.

the night of March 15. Pinker's testimony continued: "Microscopic examination revealed that larger amounts of blood were present on this leather surface at one time, but that it had been sponged with water, or some other fluid so that the amount of blood adhering to the surface has been removed. But the blood was present in the cracks of the leather and is still there."

He added that in certain areas "it may be seen by the naked eye if the jacket is held in the bright sunlight," and that bloodstains were also found on a shirt, slacks and hose.

Sheriff James Musick testified the shirt, pants and shoes had been found in a search of Gollum's car, parked in Los Angeles on March 19. Neither Gollum, a student at Los Angeles City College, nor Miss Overell, a journalist from the University of Southern California, appeared before the jury.

Gollum's entry of a plea was delayed until April 4. Ray Pinker, Los Angeles police chemist, said of a black leather jacket: "As a result of my examination, I have been able to determine that the coat at one time was heavily contaminated with human blood."

The garment earlier had been admitted as a jury exhibit, described as found in a room in the Flintridge mansion of financier and Mrs. Walter E. Overell, into which Gollum had moved after the Overells were killed in Newport Bay.

Discuss Greco-Turkish Problem

President Truman is shown as he conferred at the White House with Warren R. Austin (center), U. S. representative to the United Nations, and Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson. After the parley, Austin said he would request U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie to place the Greco-Turkish problem on the agenda of the United Nations Security Council for its next meeting.

Son's Bride Shot By Jealous Mother

BURLINGTON, Mass., March 27 (P)—A state detective said that a "jealous" mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace A. Mills, 63, today shot and killed her son's bride of six months.

Detective James Conniff of the state police said the "trail little woman," who was charged with murder, told him she had planned snuffing her 38-year-old daughter-in-law, Mrs. Grace Downing Mills, for a week.

The younger Mrs. Mills was shot through the heart with a civil war pistol—a Mills family heirloom—as she prepared breakfast for her husband, Frank, 42, a machinist.

Hysterical and suffering from bruises on the arm and head, which police said were inflicted by her son in wrestling the gun from her, the elderly mother-in-law was quoted by Conniff as saying: "I wanted to get it over with."

GRANTED DIVORCE
CHICAGO, March 27 (P)—Mrs. Louisa N. Kirk, of the Drake hotel, was granted a divorce today, on grounds of desertion, from Walter R. Kirk, 72, former soap manufacturer. Her attorney said a "substantial" settlement had been made, but declined to disclose the amount.

Bill to Continue Government Control Now in Congress

WASHINGTON, March 27 (P)—A bill continuing government controls over certain scarce materials sped through both Senate and House today but in differing forms.

If the Senate rejects changes made by the House, a conference will be necessary to adjust the differences. The controls now are exercised under the second War Powers Act which expires Monday.

President Truman requested a full year's extension of all the controls, including power to allocate any commodity in case of a national emergency, such as a coal strike. This board authority was refused by Congress.

Both chambers voted to continue controls over building materials only until June 30. The Senate further proposed to continue controls only until June 30 over Manila Fiber and Cordage, Cinchona bark from which Quinine is derived, the drug Streptomycin, Antimony, Tin, Steel, Rice, Protein Feeds, Fats and Oils and certain other scarce commodities.

Thompson said he would issue a statement tomorrow explaining his decision. At his downtown law office in Atlanta, Talmadge, ousted by the Supreme Court last week from temporary occupancy of the governorship, said: "I knew Thompson would veto the white primary bill. He wrote a book several years ago opposing the white primary then. I knew it was my duty to be a candidate for governor because I knew what his views were."

"I made a fight and was elected in accordance with the law. The supreme court of the state decided for Mr. Thompson."

WHITE SUPREMACY BILL IS VETOED BY M. E. THOMPSON

ATLANTA, March 27 (P)—Governor M. E. Thompson vetoed without comment today the Talmadge-sponsored white supremacy legislation which would have barred Negroes from voting in Georgia's Democratic primaries.

In doing so, he returned to his bitter political rival, Herman Talmadge, the issue of white supremacy in Georgia. His action ignored the "white primary" platform adopted by a Talmadge-commenced Democratic state convention last October, before the death of the late Eugene Talmadge.

Thompson said he would issue a statement tomorrow explaining his decision. At his downtown law office in Atlanta, Talmadge, ousted by the Supreme Court last week from temporary occupancy of the governorship, said: "I knew Thompson would veto the white primary bill. Eugene Dennis Branded Draft Dodger—Bail Jumper

WASHINGTON, March 27 (P)—Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the U.S. Communist party, was labeled by members of the House Un-American Activities committee today a draft dodger and bail jumper.

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said that Dennis, described by FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover as a man of many aliases, was the son of Francis Xavier Waldron Sr. He said the father died in a state hospital for the insane in 1928.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) told the committee he had been informed by the Los Angeles police department that "If Frank Waldron, or Eugene Dennis, as he now calls himself, returns to Los Angeles jurisdiction he will be apprehended and jailed."

Dennis appeared before the committee yesterday, but was ejected amid shouts of "Take him out!" after he refused to say where he was born and what other names he had used. A subpoena was issued for his return on April 9.

Nixon, a committee member, said Dennis is wanted by Los Angeles police on a bench warrant issued after he jumped bail on an appeal bond following his conviction for "attempt to riot" in 1930. He had been sentenced to 120 days in jail and fined $500, Nixon said.

Chemist Finds Bloodstains On George Gollum's Jacket

SANTA ANA, Calif., March 27 (P)—A police chemist's testimony that blood stains were found on the clothing of George Gollum—under indictment in the double deaths of his fiancée's parents aboard their dynamite-shattered yacht—was made public today in a transcript of grand jury testimony.

The transcript was filed with the county clerk shortly after Gollum, 21, and Louise Overell, 17, appeared for arraignment under murder indictments voted yesterday.

Miss Overell was certified to juvenile court. Gollum's entry of a plea was delayed until April 4.

Ray Pinker, Los Angeles police chemist, said of a black leather jacket: "As a result of my examination, I have been able to determine that the coat at one time was heavily contaminated with human blood."

PROPOSES BILL FOR PRESIDENT TO HALT STRIKE

Representative Hartley Suggests Measure Against Telephone Tie-up

WASHINGTON, March 27 (P)—An emergency bill to arm President Truman with an injunction club against the threatened telephone strike was announced late today by Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.), chairman of the House Labor committee.

The temporary measure, a stop-gap until a general union-curbing bill can be passed, would amend the Norris-LaGuardia Anti-Injunction Act and enable the administration to get a court order stopping any strike the President considers a threat to "public health, safety, or welfare."

Hartley told newsmen he will ask the committee to recommend the bill to the House on Monday and "anticipates no difficulty" in getting its approval. He said he already had canvassed a majority of the members and none opposed it.

Even so, the measure could scarcely pass both House and Senate and reach the President's desk by April 7. But it might be used to halt the strike in its early stages, if Mr. Truman sanctions the measure. It would be up to him whether to invoke it, if he signed it.

Hartley said the nation faces a "serious" crisis in communications. He said his measure is designed to meet the threat not only of a telephone strike by the National Federation of Telephone Workers but also what he termed "A possible sympathy strike of the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians."

Furthermore, Hartley said he is advised of the possibility of "Some difficulty at Western Union," and in the paper industry, which he said may be tied up by a possible strike of the Foundrymen Wire Weavers Protective Association. He explained that foundrymen wire is needed to produce certain kinds of paper used in books and magazines.

Hartley said the bill is not yet finished. Some "kinks" remain. He proposes that it be effective only until Congress passes an over-all labor bill. This over-all bill, he hopes, will "obliterate" the need for such authority to the President.

BURLINGTON, Mass., March 27 (P)—A state detective said that a "jealous" mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace A. Mills, 63, today shot and killed her son's bride of six months.

She was reported by the detective as saying she was jealous of her son's wife even before their marriage — "afraid the marriage would break up our home."

Medical examiner John M. Wilcox said the bullet struck just above the heart and "the size of the wound was terrible." The younger woman, clad in night clothes and slippers, was found lying on the kitchen floor.

What's in a Name! A Lot of Furrows, Says This Plowboy

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 27 (AP).—It has taken a lot of patience and a number of years, but State Representative C. Plowboy Edwards of McAlester, Okla., finally has convinced everyone that Plowboy is his real moniker and not a nickname.

In the midst of an oration on the House floor, Edwards paused to relate how he got his middle name.

"I was born on an old plantation down in Mississippi," he said. "Dad was sorely pressed for a name, but all he had was girls. He needed something to help with the plowing. The day I made my entrance to this world, Dad was out in the field plowing as usual. Somebody went out and rang the dinner bell, and Dad, knowing it wasn't dinner time, figured the sork had arrived."

"He came loping up to the house on an old hog-eared mule."

"The doctor named me to Dad and told him, 'Well, here's your plowboy.'"

"So Dad named me C. Plowboy Edwards and that's the way it came."

Love Will Fine a Way—This Way Didn't Work

WILMINGTON, Del., March 27 (AP)—A young man and his girl companion were held in $1000 bail each today after state police said they tried to force a motorist to drive them to Elkton, Md., so they could be married.

State police identified the pair as Laurence Smith, 24, of Baltimore, Md., and Margaret Copps, 23, of Newcastle, Del. They were charged with attempted highway robbery.

Police quoted Paul S. Wiley, Wilmington real estate dealer, as saying the girl struck something against his side after he had given the couple a lift in his car. She demanded he drive to Elkton, Wiley said, but instead he pulled into state police headquarters.

The word "acrobat" derives from Greek words meaning to go on tiptoe.

Love Will Fine a Way— This Way Didn't Work

WILMINGTON, Del., March 27 (P)—A young man and his girl companion were held in $1000 bail each today after state police said they tried to force a motorist to drive them to Elkton, Md., so they could be married.

State police identified the pair as Laurence Smith, 24, of Baltimore, Md., and Margaret Capps, 23, of Newcastle, Del. They were charged with attempted highway robbery.

Police quoted Paul S. Wiley, Wilmington real estate dealer, as saying the girl stuck something against his side after he had given the couple a lift in his car. She demanded he drive to Elkton, Wiley said, but instead he pulled into state police headquarters.

Defendant Ordered To Pay Costs; Judge Dismisses Complaint

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, March 27 — Dismissing a bill of complaint filed by John Tyson against George P. Burns and Catherine Burns, his wife, of Pottstown R. D. 4, Judge Corson directs that the defendant should pay the costs.

The equity action involved a tract of ground in Lower Pottsgrove township, which is owned by the defendants and on which on Sept. 24, 1945, John Tyson entered into an agreement for the purchase of the premises for $1,500, $300 on account. The agreement of sale provided settlement should be within 30 days from the date. This was not done.

In January or February the defendants refused to go through with the sale after Tyson handed them a list of exceptions against the property consisting of a judgement and a couple of unreleased legacies to a church which were over fifty years old. In the meantime property values had risen 30 to 35 percent for real estate of the type involved.

Judge Corson ruled Tyson was in default in that he did not make settlement within 30 days.

"In the present case it would seem highly inequitable to hold that these defendants should have conveyed their property three or four months after the expiration of the time provided in their agreement and when the value of property had increased to such an extent that the defendants would not have been able to buy any similar property for much more money," declared Judge Corson.

Ex-Philadelphia Chief Scores Motorists Who Block Efforts of Firefighters

Motorists who race to scenes of fires, hampering the actions of firemen, were rapped by former Philadelphia Battalion Chief Frank Rowe, who spoke at last night's meeting of the Pottstown Fire Police association at the fire house of the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company.

Rowe said he was at the recent fire which destroyed the Henry Pollock junk yard at Glasgow. He declared it was a disgrace to have scores and scores of motor cars parked near the scene of the big blaze. If there had been a high wind raging firemen would have been unable to save nearby houses. Rowe said Quaker City firemen experience the same silly practice on the part of motorists.

President Charles B. Wolfgang was in the chair at the business meeting, which was featured by a number of discussions regarding problems of fire police.

Following the business meeting the host fire company served chicken sandwiches. The next meeting of the organization will be held at the Sanatoga Fire company's quarters Thursday night, April 24.

Presbyterian Group Ends Intensive Study of India

The five weeks intensive study of India came to a close Wednesday night in First Presbyterian church. A steady average attendance was maintained throughout the course in all departments denoting an unflagging interest in the subject chosen for consideration, from adult to primary grades. One small boy asked regretfully "Is it over now?" India was seen as a land of contrasts and extremes.

The sessions closed with an exhibition of Indian art and garments, loaned by Mrs. Robert Shelly and Mrs. C. B. Stouffer. A photograph produced Indian songs.

The primary department found deep satisfaction in modeling an Indian village in the sand table. Juniors busied themselves by making a huge map of India with multi-colored provinces. Young people studied and compared modern youth in India while the men's group discussed the political, economic and industrial organizations of India.

At the meeting Mrs. A. Burtis Hallock discussed Christianity's outstanding contribution to India. Miss Peggy Morris gave a comprehensive review of the history of Presbyterian Missions from 1833 to the present day. Mrs. Harold Modyer reviewed medical mission work and Mrs. William Ebert dramatized the story of a convert to Christianity.

He would write a letter appealing for funds and sign Father McCook's name. The letter would state that a friend named Coyle would call for any donation. Occasionally the letters would mention that Coyle had a sick wife and was worthy of assistance himself.
In addition to making out checks which he thought were going to Father McCook's charitable work, Houston also made gifts to Coyle, Sergeant Doyle said. Coyle forged the priest's name and cashed the checks, it is charged.

A few days ago Father McCook wrote the Real Estate Trust company stating that he himself had been swindled of $235 by Coyle and understood that Coyle was misrepresenting himself at the bank as an agent collecting money for the priest's church.
The letter was turned over to the police by John P. Ryan, in charge of real estate at the trust company. Doyle stationed himself at the bank and arrested Coyle as he approached it Wednesday.

At yesterday's hearing before Chief Magistrate O'Malley in City Hall police court police said that Coyle embarked on the fraud while on probation from a sentence of from 18 months to three years imposed in Schuylkill county in 1945 for a swindling conviction.
Assistant District Attorney Americo Cortese labeled him "an astute swindler crawling through life like a snake."

Troop 9 to Reunite With Former Members
Members of old Scout Troop 9, which last functioned 12 years ago, will meet tonight at 7 o'clock for a reunion in Sanatoga Grange Hall. The troop existed for a period of eight years and was sponsored by St. Paul's Reformed church, Walnut and Penn streets.
Wilson Hoffman, former scoutmaster, who will attend, predicted last night that about 40 old members should be on hand. Among them will be Luther Graham, the featured speaker, and the old troop committee. The Rev. Michael Schmidt, present pastor of St. Paul's, will also address the group.
Last year the veteran scouters also congregated and the meeting proved so successful that it was decided to try to hold a similar meeting each year.

Masman, you could do the same thing.

That's just what happened. Forman and Masman were on their way from Buffalo to Philadelphia in a brand new, bright red helicopter when Forman decided to visit his masters up at The Hill school. They literally dropped in on the quad-rangle at the school.

Later, they landed in the parking space in front of the Howard Johnson restaurant and went in for lunch.

"This is nothing unusual," Masman said, "we even drop in on gas stations when our fuel is running low."

"In bad weather, we get road maps from them so we can travel with highways to guide us," he added.

The two men remarked that they saw more than 14 deer and two foxes as they were crossing the mountains on the trip East.

After eating, the two men climbed into their ship, warmed up the motors and rose straight up into the air.

"Humph," one old-timer was heard to remark, "I can remember when this parking space was for automobiles."

RELEASED IN RAPE CASE

FRESNO, Calif., March 7 (AP) — Lawrence Leung, 41-year-old truck driver questioned for a week in the March 11 rape slaying of Lewis, of nearby Sanger, has been released by authorities here.

ANTRIM —

Antrim was in charge of the boys' department of the YMCA where he organized and led activities designed to interest almost every boy in Pottstown.

Each Summer he enrolled 45 boys a day in a Home camp. In addition to being taught boxing, wrestling and swimming, they took part in field days and scavenger days during the summer vacation.

For Winter leisure time, Antrim supervised instruction and participation in checkers, quads, swimming, basketball, and pool.

His interest in the Hi-Y clubs led to the formation of three Gray-Y clubs, which included younger members from the grade schools. An airplane club, hobby club, and Indian Scout club all were open to Pottstown boys.

Outside of his YMCA work, Antrim has been supervisor of the Pottstown community marionette tournament for the past ten years.

The VFW Commander has a World War record that includes service with the 308th Machine Gun Battalion of the 78th Division, in the major engagements of St. Mihiel and the Argonne. Wounded, he returned to the United States with the Purple Heart award.

In addition to being commander of the Pottstown VFW, Antrim is a Junior Vice-Commander of the 16th District, VFW, which includes all of Montgomery county.

His other activities include membership in the American Legion, the Eagles, the Orioles, and a directorship of Memorial park.

certificates in recognition of completing a 25-hour course on borough legislation given by the state over a period of six months. It was the largest group from any borough to receive the certificates.

Those who received the awards were Burgess Griffith, Sears, Building Inspector Arthur S. Kepner, Health Officer Benjamin C. Steele, Borough Secretary William Schaefer, Sewer Disposal Plant Superintendent Eugene Swenham, and Councilmen J. Max Creswell, William Traddell, Gerald J. Daly, J. Wayne Knause, Charles Satterthwaite and Leon Dearoli.

Not present but also recipients of the certificates were Borough Election William H. Price, Tax Collector Thomas Rutter and Councilman Leo F. Spahr.

Other councilmen attending were William Romich, William Bernhart and E. B. Heck.

Principal speaker at the banquet meeting was Charles H. Brunner, state representative from Norristown, who pledged support of a bill now before the State Legislature which would allow boroughs and school districts to levy taxes on anything not now taxed by the State.

He favored, he said, a tax program for boroughs which would render sufficient funds to eliminate the necessity of calling on Harrisburg for subsidies.

Governor Duff has backed the measure, he stated, because it broadens the tax base of smaller communities and makes them more independent.

Later, he declared, if the State wished to put a tax on an item by the borough, the borough tax would be removed.

Burgess Griffith was placed on a committee which will work with the committee of police chiefs in the county to discuss proposed legislation in the state capital.

He favored, he said, a tax program for boroughs which would render sufficient funds to eliminate

Governor Duff has backed the measure, he stated, because it broadens the tax base of smaller communities and makes them more independent.

Later, he declared, if the State

Dodgers Expect Jinxed Reiser To Play Most of 154 Contests

HAVANA, March 27 (AP)—Brooklyn's fortunes rise and fall daily with a succession of medical bulletins on the celebrated case of Pistol Pete Reiser. The latest word, direct from the patient, is that he will be ready to open the season and play most of the 154 games.

The Reiser story remains the key to the Dodger ball club. With the exception of Stan Musial of St. Louis, there is no one man more important to a National league contender than Reiser is to Brooklyn.

There are many who believe the Dodgers could have staved off the late bid of the Cardinals last September if Reiser had been in the lineup. Instead, he was hobbling around on crutches with a broken left leg as the result of an impulsive slide back into first base against the Phils.

Reiser, toasted a dark brown by the tropical sun of Venezuela, Panama and Cuba, recently returned from a hurried trip to St. Louis where he was assured by Dr. Robert Hyland of the Cardinals that there was nothing seriously wrong with his right shoulder. Dr. Hyland had operated on the shoulder last December to repair a separation of the clavicle from the sternum.

When Reiser had swung and missed on a high pitch in Panama, last September, he had sharp pains in the shoulder. Dodger officials and Reiser feared he might have torn loose the connecting tissue. It was feared he might be lost for the year and perhaps for ever.

Now Reiser thinks he will be all right. That is the most important thing in the estimation of President Branch Rickey.

OFF TO GOOD START

Johnny Evers Nears Death In Hospital

ALBANY, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—Johnny Evers lay near death today in St. Peter's hospital where attending physicians said the great second baseman of four decades ago was "growing weaker."

A hospital bulletin in the late afternoon listed Evers' condition as "very critical and growing weaker."

Evers, 65 years old, gained fame with the National league Chicago Cubs as pivot man of the Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance double play combination of the early 1900's.

He was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage on Tuesday and rushed to the hospital.

Evers suffered a stroke in 1942 which left him partially paralyzed.

Collegeville High Colonels End 1946-47 Basketball Season With 28-27 Victory Over the Alumni

Collegeville High school, Montco league champions, closed their 1946-47 basketball season last night by edging a strong Alumni five, 28-27, before 200 fans at Collegeville. The Colonels, however, started to come back strong in the third frame and clinched the game with a final spurt in the final eight minutes.

Don DeWane led the Collegeville attack with five fielders and one foul for a 11 point total.

TIGERS DOWN BISOXS

BARTOW, Fla., March 27 (AP)—A rookie lineup collected 11 hits to give the Detroit Tigers an easy 9 to 2 victory today over its farm club, the Buffalo Bisons, in an exhibition baseball game.

Recruit hurler Jerry Burke started for Detroit and in three innings gave up three hits and the two runs gained by Buffalo. Buffs' Gentry, who had shown little in previous efforts, took the mound for the last six frames and held the Bisons hitless.

Detroit scored six of its runs in the last three innings off Bob Swanson of Buffalo, who walked 10 batters and was charged with two wild pitches.

Clint Conatser, rookie Tiger outfielder, had a perfect day at bat with three singles and two walks.

Bob Kennedy clouted his fifth homer of the Spring and Jim Delsing, Milwaukee rookie, collected two triples for the winners.

Pitcher Thornton Lee made the

The line score:

Chicago (A) . . . 101 013 040—10 16 1

Sacramento . . . 020 010 000—3 8 0

TIGERS DOWN BISOXS

BARTOW, Fla., March 27 (P)—A rookie lineup collected 11 hits to give the Detroit Tigers an easy 9 to 2 victory today over its farm club, the Buffalo Bisons, in an exhibition baseball game.

Recruit hurler Jerry Burke started for Detroit and in three innings gave up three hits and the two runs gained by Buffalo. Rufus Gentry, who had shown little in previous efforts, took the mound for the last six frames and held the Bisons hitless.

Detroit scored six of its runs in the last three innings off Bob Swanson of Buffalo, who walked 10 batters and was charged with two wild pitches.

Clint Conatser, rookie Tiger outfielder, had a perfect day at bat with three singles and two walks.

Harry E. Fowler, guardian for Mary E. Fowler, heir-at-law and George, who is first tenor, in the Eastern Nazarene college quartet, is leading the singing and doing solo work.

Paul Willworth, St. Albans, Vt., is at the piano. He also is a ministerial student and the son of a minister. The two older sons of the Rev. Andrews, the pastor, will arrive in time for the service tonight, and will assist in the singing, forming a quintet. Four of these brothers are licensed ministers in the Church of the Nazarene. Services are being conducted each night at 7:45 o'clock, and Sunday at 10:45 a.m., and 2:45 and 7:45 p.m.

The purported will is dated May 28, 1946, and is written on a small sheet of ordinary writing paper. It contains only 22 words, reading as follows:

"To whom it may concern in case of my death. All personal belongings as estate, car, boat, property to Jennie as co-owner." It is signed with the name, Calvin J. Fowler, and has as witnesses Jennie Clemens and Mary E. Fowler.

Jennie Clemens, who offered the will for probate, claims to be the "Jennie" named as sole beneficiary.

Attendance Increasing At Revival Services

Revival services now in progress at the Church of the Nazarene, Royersford, are growing nightly in attendance and spiritual fervor.

Aiding materially is the singing of the Andrews trio, Paul, David and George. George, who is first tenor, in the Eastern Nazarene college quartet, is leading the singing and doing solo work.

Paul Willworth, St. Albans, Vt., is at the piano. He also is a ministerial student and the son of a minister. The two older sons of the Rev. Andrews, the pastor, will arrive in time for the service tonight, and will assist in the singing, forming a quintet. Four of these brothers are licensed ministers in the Church of the Nazarene. Services are being conducted each night at 7:45 o'clock, and Sunday at 10:45 a.m., and 2:45 and 7:45 p.m.

Burns Prove Fatal To Mrs. Fryer, 75

Lingering on for over ten hours after she was severely burned when her clothing caught fire Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Emma Fryer, 75, of Spring City RD 1, died yesterday morning at 2:15 o'clock in the Phoenixville hospital.

Second and third degree burns, which she received when her clothes were ignited by a stove over which she was working, covered 98 percent of her body. Two buttons were all that remained of her clothing.

Mrs. Fryer, who lived at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Huzzard, of Lower Church road, was using her apron to hold a roast she was putting in the oven of the electric stove when her clothes caught fire, her daughter believes.

Flames rapidly engulfed her and John Huzzard, father of her son-in-law, and William Dotterer, a neighbor, came to the rescue—but by the time they had ripped the clothes off her she had been burned fatally.

After first aid treatment by Dr. Joseph G. Ross, she was rushed to the hospital where she received further care.

A certificate of accidental death was issued by Coroner Cooper T. Bishop Jr., of Phoenixville.

Born in Chester county the daughter of the late Henry and Phoebe (Robinson) March, Mrs. Fryer spent her entire life in the area.

She was a member of St. Vincent Reformed church and the Women's Missionary society.

Surviving her are her daughter, Mrs. Huzzard, a brother Charles March, of Royersford, and a sister, Mrs. Raymond Sypherd, of Philadelphia.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 331 New street, Spring City, and interment will be in St. Vincent's cemetery.

Charter Presented To New Womans' Club

The charter was presented to the recently organized Chestnut Business and Professional Woman's club at a dinner-meeting last night in Liberty firehall, Spring City, with upward of 115 members attending. Mrs. Dorothy Edwards, Spring City, presided.

Main speaker was Miss Grace B. Daniels, Wilkes-Barre, state president, who presented the charter. An address was delivered by Mabelle Mills Kirkbride, Norris-town, vice-president of the state federation.

Officers of the local club were inducted by Dr. Madeline Holland, Philadelphia, president of the Philadelphia Business and Professional Woman's club and co-chairman of District 10.
